

After one night of partying in college drinking and taking pills prescribed for my arthritis (关节炎) and migraines (偏头痛), I woke up the next morning and remembered nothing. I started hiccupping (打嗝) and it wouldn't ____1____. After a week, I went to the campus hospital but they said ____2____ was wrong.

How much I would hiccup ____3____. They would get worse if my stress levels were up or if I hadn't had much sleep.

When I first spoke to my family, they thought I was ____4____ it. It was only when I saw them in person that they started to believe me. They could hear me hiccupping all night so they knew it was ____5____. The doctors thought it was all in my head. It made no ____6____ that I would lie about such a thing it was painful and annoying.

I got kicked out of class because I was ____7____ others. I wouldn't go to the movies because I thought I would ____8____ everyone. The problem was physically and mentally ____9____.

Then I stopped taking pills and drinking. My life got back on track but the hiccups didn't ____10____. Over the years, I've been given lots of different ____11____. I thought things might never get better. After eight years, my hiccups never stopped completely, but the medication eventually made them less ____12____.

I've now been living with hiccups for 12 years. I feel mentally ____13____ for going through this, as well as a more patient person. I'm so ____14____ to having them that it's like blinking to me, ____15____ my daughter does still laugh when she hears me hiccup.

I started skiing when I was three years old. My mom worked as a ski instructor as she also loved the snow. While the other 16 in my group were whining(哭闹) and complaining, I was busy learning skiing. And at the age of four, I was 17 through the snow with my mom. I remember falling once and realizing that the 18 was taller than I was.

When I was seven, I decided I wanted to take my skiing to the next level and join a 19. There were two options: racing, a popular event for girls, and free skiing, an event mainly for 20. Siding the chairlift(登山吊椅) with my mother, I would see free skiers flying and spinning through the air. I 21 knew which team I wanted to join: free skiing.

As soon as I joined the team, I was placed in a low level. 22, I soon climbed the rankings until I came to the 23 group. At that point, I was the only girl on my team. Although being a girl in a male-dominated sport can be difficult, I'm actually thankful that I've had the 24 that I never had.

Life is not going to be a smooth road for all of us, and building 25 early on is important. My experiences have made me tougher and have 26 me to meet my setbacks with open arms. In fact, after this encounter, I've become a better skier. However, there is no way that I could have done it without my supportive 27 always behind me and my 28 coach always, always behind me as well.

I encourage you all to 29 your comfort zone to show the boys that girls are just as 30 as they are.

Time for girls to shine

Most of us grew up reading fairy tales that start with “Once upon a time” and end with “the princess and prince lived happily ever after”. They seem to be harmless- even 61, perhaps. But in the eyes of two Italian writers, Favilli and Cavallo, this is what's been 62 with children's stories for years.

“Children's books have always 63 the same since we were children,” Cavallo said. And a study also found while 80 percent of male characters in most popular children's books have a(n) 64, only 18 percent of female characters do.

So they together wrote a book 65 only female protagonists(主角). Good Night Stories for Rebel(叛逆) Girls is an “anti- princess” book, which gives young girls role models of their own to 66.

The original book was published in December 2019, and the second volume 67 on Feb 28, 2021. Both books contain the stories of 100 extraordinary women from all over the world, and much to the 68 of children's book writers, every one of them has a job or professional ambition. The "characters" 69 pop singer Beyonce and tennis star Serena Williams.

However, the word "rebel" may make some people feel uncomfortable, since it's not really seen as 70. But being rebellious is 71 being independent, which many of today's girls need to develop.

"It is important to 72 - especially if you are a woman or a girl- a rebel attitude, a rebel character, because you have to 73 harder to reach your dream and to get what you want.

And this 74 is made clear, with the book's first page reading "To all the girls of the world, dream 75, aim higher, fight harder".

A Touching Gesture

On a Monday morning, back in 2015, I remember 106 my car under a shady tree in the car park outside my doctor's clinic. 107, grief and the loss of the idea of a complete family left me not coping well.

I wept uncontrollably. My doctor had 108 me with severe anxiety and depression. I wanted to be 109 as my son, Kai, was depending on me.

Still sobbing, I was scared to hear a knock on my car 110. A thin lady with short fair hair, probably in her 40s, 111 opened it and began to speak calmly and kindly to me. "I don't know what you're 112 now. But know this: what you are experiencing will pass," she said. "Can I give you a 113?"

There I was, a weeping mess, gratefully accepting this kind embrace. All I 114 to reply in a choked-up voice was "thank you". This was the most significant act of kindness that I've ever received from a(n) 115. It gave me hope in the world, in people and for me. My 116 started right there.

About a year later, when I was doing a lot better, I 117 the same kind lady at the opening of an art exhibition. She 118 me and smiled. She said that she could 119 I was doing well. We hugged again, and once more I was able to express my appreciation for her 120—this time a little more clearly.

“I knew when I saw you, I wanted to take you home,” my dad said to me when I visited him one Saturday. There is a deep-seated 121 of a father seeing his daughter when she was born.

My father has Alzheimer’s (老年痴呆症). He does not 122 express in words, so the sudden accuracy of his words 123 me.

Another Saturday, he 124 a photo of me and said, “She’s smart.” Did he know the 125 person, 30 years older, was sitting beside him? It does not 126. At that moment I can feel his 127.

Now I bring a spoonful of yogurt to his lips. With a 128 hand, he touches me and says, “You’re very good. Thank you.” He 129 forgets it was he that guided me in 130 a spoon to my mouth.

These words are all he can give now. But they make me understand more deeply my 131 father.

His door was always open. Drop-in 132 were welcomed with a drink. He would not hesitate to give money to a family member 133. In the community, he 134 his time to preserve the historical buildings.

Time, advice, money. There were many ways he gave.

And he gives, 135. The disease has taken much from my father. What's left are his words. It's difficult for him to find the right word and say it out loud. Yet he keeps going.

This story happened when Gandhiji was practicing law in the city of Johannesburg in South Africa. His office was three miles from his 136.

One day a colleague of his, Mr Polak, asked Gandhiji's thirteen-year-old son, Manilal to fetch a book from the office. But Manilal 137 forgot till Mr Polak 138 him that evening. Gandhiji heard about it and 139 Manilal. He said, "Son, I know the night is dark and the way is long and lonely. You will have to 140 nearly six miles but you gave your 141 to Mr. Polak. You promised to fetch his book. Go and fetch it now."

The family were 142 when they heard of Gandhiji's 143. The punishment seemed too 144. Manilal was only a child, the night was dark and the way was lonely. He had only forgotten a book 145. It could be brought the next day. This was what they all felt, but no one had the 146 to say anything. They knew that once Gandhiji's mind was made up, nobody could change it. At last Kalyan Bhai gathered up courage. "I'll fetch the book," he 147. Gandhiji was gentle but 148, "But the promise was made by Manilal." "Very well, Manilal will go but let me go with him," Kalyan Bhai pleaded (请求). Gandhiji agreed to this and Manilal 149 with Kalyan Bhai to fetch the book.

The kind and gentle Gandhiji could be firm as a rock at times. He saw that Manilal 150 his word and did as he had promised.

In the United States, Christmas is a very important day. Many needy families are seeking assistance every year on the occasion of Christmas so they can get _____166_____ toys and gifts for their children. And the charities and organizations come forward to _____167_____ those poor families and bring joy to the poor children. Every year many free gifts and toys are indeed _____168_____. This is very kind and _____169_____ work for poor families as well as for children.

Here is a family who have been _____170_____ their love on this special day.

Three decades ago, Norah Wilkinson started a Christmas _____171_____ that her family is keeping alive five years after her _____172_____. It all came from the _____173_____ grandmother's simple motto(座右铭), "It's nice to be nice." Back in 1990, this _____174_____ led her to start spending £ 10 a year on presents for children who'd _____175_____ have nothing to open on Christmas day, according to The Mirror.

Although Norah passed away five years ago, at the great age of 92, her grandchildren wanted to _____176_____ up the tradition. So Norah's seven children and their children have managed to _____177_____ an amazing £ 250,000 worth of gifts that will be handed out to more than 5,000 families for Christmas.

This year, more than ever, many families are _____178_____ to put food on the table. Yet, thanks to the generous strangers and this hard-working and caring family, thousands of children will soon have a smile on their face.

The work of the grandchildren and their parents is totally _____179_____ and it's wonderful to see how much of an inspiration from a grandmother can be in life and death, and how a simple desire to be kind can snowball into a _____180_____ to help thousands.

It was a day in late winter. The Spring Festival had just passed. The lights and decorations had been 196 up and put in the closet. Surely I didn't like the long, cold winter, so I was feeling a little 197.

I was surprised when I 198 out of my window and saw that a spring-like day had suddenly arrived. I could hear some children outside playing in the warm air. I smiled and 199 to be out as well.

As I was about to head towards the door, however, I decided to do something a little different. I 200 down and pulled my shoes and 201 off. I hadn't been barefoot outside since the summer. I 202 stepped out on the cool grass: I laughed as I walked along. I remembered something I once read too, "Walk as if you were kissing the earth with your feet." And with each 203, I did so. I felt at one with 204 and thankful for the gift of this day and no longer 205 the coming of the winter. I thought I had gathered enough 206 to welcome it.

All of us are walking through this life. However, are you going to trip and 207 with heavy steps and 208 with each step you take? Or are you going to 209 the earth with your feet and your heart? The 210 is yours.

Online gamers constantly make life and death decisions at their keyboards -but it's just a game. A Texas gamer was faced with a real-life situation and helped 211 the life of a fellow player--5,000 miles away.

Aidan, in England, was playing an online game in his bedroom when he had a seizure (癲病). His playing partner, Dia, in Texas, just put her 212 on and heard what she could only describe as a seizure, so she started to get 213 and asked what was going on and if he was OK. When he didn't respond, she 214 started to look up the emergency number in the UK. When that didn't work, she just had to 215 the non-emergency number. It had an 216 for talking to a real person.

Someone answered the call and she had to force herself not to 217 and to stay calm. "Hi. I'm 218 in the US and in a call with my friend." Dia told the 219. "He had a seizure and he's not responding anymore. I do have his 220. No one is home with him right now, so I'm just trying to get him some help."

Actually, Aidan's parents were watching television downstairs and did not 221 their son was 222 until three police officers knocked at their door.

"We are extremely thankful for what Dia did and 223 that we could be downstairs and not know anything was happening," Aidan's mother said. "Dia had our address but didn't have any 224 numbers, so it was amazing that she 225 to get help from so far away. I've spoken to her and expressed our thanks—she is glad she can help."

We all know that “Practice makes perfect (熟能生巧)” is a very popular saying both in Chinese and English. It means that if you want to learn 226, you have to practice (练习) it many times, and then you may remember 227 you learn. Also we can say the more you know something, 228 you can do it. No matter (无论) what we do, those words are very 229 to us.

We can take English study 230 an example. If we want to learn some new words by heart, we must learn them and read them again and again 231 we can remember them. Sometimes it will 232 a lot of time for us to remember, but once we remember, we can use them freely. If we 233 our best, we will do it very well. When you take an English exam and 234 some meanings and usages (用法) you don't remember, how will you feel 235 that time? You must feel sorry. So English study means that you 236 practice (练习) more and more.

We can look at 237 example in learning. When we read the same story for many times, we can remember it 238 well that we can tell it to others. At the same time, we can also 239 some stories from what we have heard. So in our study and life, we should keep the sentence “Practice makes perfect” in our 240. In this way, we can study well and live a better life.

With the successful launch of the Shenzhou 14 manned spacecraft, astronaut Chen Dong once again came into people's view. But this is not his 241 space travel. As early as 2016, Chen Dong took the Shenzhou 11 spacecraft and realized his flying dream.

Chen Dong used to cause 242 from time to time as a child and was often told off by his parents. However, a little thing 243 him. One day, when playing with a group of friends, he destroyed the head teacher's 244 that were handed out by the school. With butterflies in his stomach, Chen Dong knew that he was in trouble. To his very 245, instead of criticizing him, the teacher 246 said to him: "I know you didn't do it 247, but in this way, I have no vegetables to eat. No matter what you do in the future, you must think more about others." For the first time, Chen Dong realized what 248 and tolerance are. From then on, he worked hard, helped others, and thus grew better and better.

Flying higher has always been the 249 of Chen Dong for far too long. During the training program for astronauts, no matter how difficult, the idea of giving up never 250 in his mind. In order to fully prepare for the space mission, Chen Dong almost 251 contact with the outside world. He 252 almost all his energy and time to the training program. Even his twin sons could 253 meet their father. Although he can't 254 them all the time, Chen Dong uses other ways to express his love. He takes pictures of the stars that can only be seen from space and imagine how 255 and proud the children will be when they receive them.

We have had bad news this week, my husband was laid off on Tuesday. 256, we are better off than most family, and still be able to 257 our finances until he finds another job.

When seeing doctors, nurses and staff working around the 258 to take care of patients during this COVID-19 pandemic, my husband gave me $100 cash and said, "Go out, buy some restaurant gift cards and take them to the 259 for the medical workers." Restaurant gift cards can make it 260 for them to quickly get meals between shifts. Without health care 261 we cannot join in that fight directly, but we can 262 them—with meals, with supplies and even with a 263, heartfelt “thank you”. I don’t often have to say we can’t do things because we 264 the money ourselves, but that was my first 265. Realizing my 266 he said, “We will be okay, we need to look outwards not inwards.” What a special man! I agreed that it was a 267 attitude to have! It was a beautiful thing to remain kind to 268 others even in our 269 moments. 270 thoughts helped us pull through smoothly. He found another job soon.

Always think positively, have 100% faith and success is yours.

Last year, hundreds of people spent good money on an experience that they knew would include crowds, discomfort and danger. Many would become 271, due to the extreme cold and low air pressure, and a few would even lose their 272. Yet, despite all this, by the end of the trip many were already planning to 273. For these people, climbing Qomolangma is an experience like no other, making some feel weak and others, 274.

British mountain climber George Mallory wrote of climbing Qomolangma, “What we get from this 275 is just sheer joy... We do not live to eat and make money. We eat and make money to be able to 276 life. That is what life means and what life is for.” 277, Mallory would die on the mountain in 1924, although his body would not be found until many years later.

In 2011, words 278 to those of Mallory were spoken by American mountain climber Alan Arnette, who climbed Qomolangma in that year and was going to climb other high mountains around the world. “It brings into 279 what’s important to you.” He added. “There are a thousand reasons to 280 and only one to keep going. You really have to focus on the one reason that’s most important and 281 to you. It forces you to look deep inside yourself and figure out if you really have the physical, as well as mental, toughness to 282 when you want to stop.”

Psychologist Frank Farley has spent years studying people who jump out of planes and drive fast cars, as well as those who climb Qomolangma. He referred to the 283 of these people as “Type T”, with the “T” standing for “thrill”.

Speaking to the LA Times about the “Type T” personalities, Farley said, “They don’t want to die and they don’t expect to die. “Research also suggests that our 284 to seek risks can be connected to how much we expect to benefit from the result. With this in mind, are the benefits of climbing Qomolangma worth the 285? It’s totally up to you.

My father never kept anything for emotional purposes — except once. I was the only one in my family who cared about baseball and I always _____331_____ watching my heroes at Yankee Stadium. One winter, I wrote down a schedule for the summer dates and dreamed every night. To my surprise, one evening I saw my father _____332_____ it before going out to work.

The following Sunday, he told me, “Let’s put away some money into a _____333_____ each week, and maybe we can go to Yankee Stadium this summer.” I _____334_____ washed out a jar and _____335_____ a label: YANKEE STADIUM FUND, 1960

Each of us _____336_____ to the jar weekly. However, we still hadn’t gone to a game because my father had to work every Saturday. So one day, I _____337_____ him of the remaining time, and then he _____338_____ me, “Don’t worry and we’ll have a free Saturday.”

On the morning of the last game, I was waiting hopelessly with no _____339_____ of my father who had been to work when he suddenly appeared and yelled, “I got two _____ 340 _____!”.

I could hardly _____ 341 _____ when we finally sat together, father and son, watching my New York Yankees. I sat cheering, but for my father, all I could see is a face _____ 342 _____ tiredness from working all week.

In 1963, my father died suddenly while working. In his bedroom, I noticed a _____ 343 _____ ticket in his yellowish book, which read, October 1, 1960, General Admission. My father, who _____ 344 _____ nothing for emotional reasons, had decided to keep this, a(n) _____ 345 _____ of our afternoon together.

We had just completed a lesson on community heroes. I had asked my kindergarten class to _____ 346 _____ about their favorite hero. Each child was busy _____ 347 _____ colorful masterpieces.

However, one little boy was having difficulty with the _____ 348 _____. Cameron was on the autism spectrum(自闭症), but that didn't _____ 349 _____ to us. We all loved him. I sat and watched as Austin _____ 350 _____ Cameron. Austin was Cameron's deskmate and he had a _____ 351 _____ way of interacting with Cameron. He helped Cameron _____ 352 _____ his hero. Within a few minutes,

Cameron began drawing blue lines on his paper.

Finally, it was time for everybody to 353 their hero pictures. I listened as each child 354 stood up and described their heroes.

When Austin stood up to share his picture, he 355 me by holding up a picture of Cameron. He said Cameron was his hero because he had a 356 that made it really difficult to learn, but he was like Superman and did a(n) 357 job.

358 those words, Cameron suddenly stood up, and put his arms up in the air as if he were going to take off and fly. He 359 shouted out, "I'm Superman!" The entire class stood up and began striking Superman poses, too. We were all laughing as though we had truly discovered the secret of 360 superheroes.

It is 27 years since my last conversation with my mother, who didn't finish school like many of her contemporary girls. She often told me, "I never got my 361 but one day you will." Pointing to a tree or cow, she asked me to 362 their English names after her. Feeling ____363____, I asked, “Mama, why do I have to learn these foreign phrases?” She held her pen right before my eyes. “Hold it firmly”, she ____364____ me, “for this pen and the new foreign language will be your compass to sail around the world.” Sadly, my mother died of breast cancer when I was six.

Turning seven, I traveled 30 miles to live closer to my school. But “closer” is a ____365____ term in Uganda, ____366____ means I had to get up as the early sun rose and then ran 8.8 miles barefoot to school. Also, I needed to carry a stick to ____367____ snakes and dogs. During the rainy season, the path to school was ____368____ daily and I would swim with one hand, using the other hand to hold the school bag on my ____369____.

Research shows 70 percent of poor children don’t ____370____ primary school in Uganda. Reasons for this dropout rate include the long ____371____ some children must ____372____ among many other reasons. Fortunately, I’ve made it. Whenever seeing the sun rise, I am reminded of the ____373____ of my mother, who ____374____ me to dream big and to use the ____375____ of the pen to make my dream come true.

Last week when coming home from work, I decided to go to the supermarket. I 376, ran inside and spent about 45 minutes looking and trying to shake the work pressure away. Having filled the cart (购物车), I went to pay for my 377 only to find my wallet was not in my pocket! Wondering where my wallet had 378, I put down the foods and hurried to my car, surprisingly finding the door was open and things were 379 all over the ground. Had I forgotten to 380 the door? Or had the car been 381 into?

A few steps 382, I saw a tall man stood there. He asked if it was my 383, explaining he'd been in his car opposite me when I had left. After I closed the car door, the seat belt got 384. He was about to close it 385 he saw a wallet had been on the ground, with credit cards 386. He decided to stand there guarding it, 387 no one took anything and he had been careful not to touch anything. If he hadn't been such a(an) 388, the mistake could have destroyed my whole life, as my driver's license, credit cards, ATM cards and some money were all there. I was 389 to him and thanked him 100 times. He just kept smiling, saying it was nothing. I told him he was my angel and he said, "Just 390 it on."

One day, Ruslan was fishing with his friends when they noticed something wrong. A mother bear was swimming confidently toward an island but her cubs (幼熊) were 391 in the lake. Ruslan and his friends could 392 believe what was happening.

As the mother bear 393 to head straight for the shore, leaving the cubs drowning in water, Ruslan felt he should do something to help. However, Ruslan's boat did not turn for them, in 394 of the mother bear turning around and 395 them, until she was out of sight. When the fishermen were still wondering how to save the cubs, or if it was even safe to do so, the cubs made their first 396 and swam toward them.

When the cubs closed up beside the boat and tended to 397 in, they couldn't get strong enough grasps so they kept slipping. 398, Ruslan figured that he could use the fishing net, with the help of which the cubs were finally into the 399. The men were 400 that the cubs would attack them, but it was obvious that they were too 401 to do anything but lie down.

Though the mother never 402 to save the cubs, for their survival and the safety of the men, they 403 moved the cubs to the edge of the forest and then sailed away. Their heroic deed was later 404 spread. When asked why they took such a 405, Ruslan said, "It was dangerous, of course. But they are living creatures, just like us."

Years ago, Nixon, known as Mr. Sunrise, began each day from a bench with a spectacular view such as sunrise of the Florida waterfront.

One day a woman 406 to say hello, adding, “Everyday I come, you are here. Your 407 presence makes me know that everything will be OK.” At that time he decided to pay attention to the people walking past. He started 408 at people and striking up 409 with a simple “hello”. A few passers-by began joining him on the 410, talking about relationships career, and personal problems. “I let them know we 411 to each other,” Nixon 412.

Every morning, he will 413 at the waterfront for two hours. He was nicknamed Mr. Sunshine for his regular 414 and kind openness to listen. Whatever problem a person wants to air, Nixon lends an ear to listen 415. He listens to everyone without 416 or criticism. In other words, he just listens whenever needed.

Some people simply 417 to make small talk. Others simply want to sit next to someone and 418 the silence. “Once a guy stopped, and we stared at the water for an hour then he said thank you and left. He just wanted a/an 419 moment with someone around.”

Mr. Sunshine said, “Whoever stopped 420 my undivided attention. I wanted him to walk away knowing he wasn’t alone.”

I walked through the Prudential Center wearing my old black sweat pants and a simple T-shirt. Then the bright lights from the window nearby 421 my eye and I came near to it. The window was 422 with the new collections and some classics. That was when I saw those beautiful but 423 Gucci T-shirts. The green and red strips (条纹), a key 424 of any Gucci product but everybody knows, shouted so loud that I could hear their cries 425 the glass. What's more, all of the pictures of those Gucci T-shirts I had seen 426 me that I needed them.

But then I collected my thoughts and asked myself, "Do I truly 427 the design of them, or do I want them just for 428: to let my friends and even strangers notice that I have Gucci T-shirts? After thinking 429, I figured out that those items aren't really 430 to me and that they would not help me improve myself.

In my opinion it is 431 to rely on luxuries to make us feel special. 432, not only do these brands lead us to spend a lot of money, but they also fool us into thinking these items are going to make us get 433 by a particular group. I was never very neat, while my roommate Kate was extremely 436. Each of her things had its place, but mine always hid somewhere. She 437 labeled (贴标签) everything. I always 438 everything. Over time, Kate got neater and I got 439. She would push my dirty clothing over, and I would lay my books on her tidy desk. We both got tired of each other.

War broke out one evening. Kate came into the room. Soon, I heard her 440, "Take your shoes away! Why under my bed!" Deafened, I saw my shoes 441 at me. I jumped to my feet and started yelling. She yelled back louder.

The room was filled with 442. We could not have stayed together for a single minute but for a phone call. Kate answered it. From her end of the 443, I could tell right away her grandma was 444 ill. When she hung up, she quickly crawled (爬) under her covers sobbing. Obviously, that was something she should not go through alone. All of a sudden, a warm feeling of 445 rose up in my heart.

Slowly, I 446 the pencils, took back the books, made my bed, cleaned the socks and swept the floor, even on her side. I got so into my work that I even didn't 447. Kate had sat up. She was watching, and her tears dried. Then, she reached out her 448 to grasp mine. I looked up into her eyes. She smiled at me, "Thanks."

Kate and I stayed 449 for the rest of the year. We didn't always 450, but we learned the key to living together: giving in, cleaning up and holding on.

Mark Roswell returned to his house in Milan, Italy, from visiting his parents-in-law in Beijing. No sooner had he 466 the plane than he put himself straight into quarantine (隔离) in his bedroom for 14 days, 467 from his families and relatives. “Having learned about the COVID-19 disease, we knew what was happening currently in our 468 and we were afraid for ourselves, our families and friends,” said the 48-year-old Italian.

14 days later, he walked outside into the street, 469 a mask and gloves. His Italian friends 470 looked at him, laughing at him about his behavior. “I tried my best to 471 that I should wear them in order to avoid communicating the 472 to others, but no one understood,” Roswell said.

Back from China, many Italians were fully aware what was coming and 473 the word:

stay at home. So as most Italians enjoyed themselves in the get-together or 474 into cafes and bars as 475, the Chinese residents of Milan had seemingly 476.

In late February and early March, there was a sudden 477 in Italian infections with the epidemic (流行病). Some families, who keep Chinese citizenship, even began to send children to relatives in China, 478 at the attitude and 479 of Italians around them.

Soon enough the epidemic took away many lives and perhaps it was then that the locals came to realize how 480 the Chinese were behaving.

This happened just a few minutes ago and I wanted to share. It was not a huge deal but put a smile on my face and made me feel very 481.

I 482 to the local store. On arrival, I could tell that the store was being 483 tonight, somewhat different from usual. I grabbed(抓) a few bits and pieces and walked to the checkout(结账台). After 484 chatting with the shop assistant, I learned that earlier that day there was something wrong with the fuse (保险丝), 485 destroyed the electric system in the entire store.

I went to pay but the card reader didn't 486. Obviously I was holding up the line so I put aside the things I chose and told the cashier (收银员) I was heading outside to their ATM.

I headed out, but the ATM was also 487 order. I went back in and while 488 the next customer, the cashier looked up and spotted me. I told him the ATM was broken and I would run home to 489 some cash. At that moment, a man after me insisted on covering the cost of my things. It wasn't a large amount, only £5, but made a great 490. It was a lovely thing for him to help others in 491. He said it was 492 to help someone out and it 493 me from having to run back home and back to the shop and back home again.

Although many twists and turns(曲折) exist in the world, 494 will always be gifts in your life. Enjoy the gifts, and 495 the gifts.

Allamby grew up in a poor neighborhood. He faced low expectations to 496 his dream. So he set aside his 497 of becoming a doctor and started fixing cars in a small garage at 19.

Over the years it had 498 into two shops, but Allamby longed for something more. So at 34, he 499 to go for his bachelor's degree in business management. After taking classes part-time, Allamby was told he had to take biology to get his 500. It awakened a childhood dream that he had 501 somewhere deep within himself.

Becoming a doctor when he was approaching 50 seemed 502. But one day Allamby's chemistry professor 503 him after class and asked about his 504. Allamby said he'd like to become a doctor but it would be more 505 to aim lower. "Why not a 506?" the professor asked, "You have a gift for the work."

He was right. Allamby got A in all his 507. And so in 2015, Allamby 508 ties with his past. He sold his two shops and then started at a(n) 509 university. In 2019, at 47, he became a doctor. "My new life feels like the life that I've lived for so long," he says, "It just happens. I'm 510 people instead of cars."

No one is born a winner. People make themselves into winners by their own efforts.

I learned this lesson from a(n) 511 many years ago. I took the head coaching (教练) job at a school in Baxley, Georgia. It was a small school with a weak football program.

It was a tradition for the school's old team to play against the new team at the end of spring practice. The old team had no coach, and they didn't even practice to 512 the game. Being the coach of the new team, I was excited because I knew we were going to win, but to my disappointment we were defeated. I couldn't 513 I had got into such a situation. Thinking hard about it, I came to 514 that my team might not be the number one team in Georgia, but they were 515 me. I had to change my 516 about their ability and potential.

I started doing anything I could to help them build a little pride. Most important, I began to treat them like winners. That summer, when the other teams enjoyed their 517, we met every day and 518 passing and kicking the football.

Six months after suffering our 519 on the spring practice field, we won our first game and our second, and continued to 520. Finally, we faced the number one team in the state. I felt that it would be a 521 for us even if we lost the game. But that wasn't what happened. My boys beat the best team in Georgia, giving me one of the greatest 522 of my life!

From the experience I learnt a lot about how the attitude of the leader can 523 the members of a team. Instead of seeing my boys as losers, I pushed and 524 them. I helped them to see themselves 525, and they built themselves into winners. Winners are made, but not born.

I have used this idea a few times. Sending someone flowers, without signing the card or 541 in any way who they are from, is interesting and amazing. The most 542 part of this act is that the receivers will think about all the people who care about them when they try to 543 who might send the flowers.

I 544 clearly the first time I did this. The 545 was just to make Roy smile, but I did not add my 546 on the blessing card. He had a warm heart though he was not good at talking. When I was new, he gave me lots of 547 about my work and did all that he can to help me through my 548 years.

I 549 to get his birthday from colleagues with some effort. I just wanted him to know he was thought about. The 550 of not signing the card was beyond expectation.

The whole office started to talk about Roy's flowers as everyone tried to find out the 551. He himself also joined the ranks of the searching team. He 552 his shyness and made contacts he had been putting off for a long time to see if they had sent the flowers.

553, Roy found out it was me. The surprised smile on his face showed that he didn't 554 I would send him flowers. But he still expressed his 555 for my flowers and card. And I said it's I that should thank him for his help, which brought smiles to both of our faces.

Nowadays, online course have become popular in many countries. There are different kinds of online courses, but most show a 601 of a teacher and students in a classroom. Students watch the video online and take part in online 602 Some courses that are taught 603 the Internet alive. Some courses are free and open to anyone, giving students anywhere the 604 to study at any time. Of course, watching students and teachers on a computer screen is not the same as taking part in a 605 class.

Other kinds of e-learning are being 606 around the world. In Singapore, some schools have tablets and touch screens instead of books and blackboards in the classrooms. There are also social media 607 to help the students work together on projects, and online “worlds” where the students can 608 with each other.

In South Korea, some students are taught English by teachers abroad. The teachers are in their 609 countries and are connected to the Korean classrooms through the Internet. Instead of looking at a screen, the students interact with a 610 in the classroom. The robot is controlled by the teacher and can move around the classroom, talking with students. It is unlikely that robot teachers will 611 real teachers. But like online learning environments, they can be useful 612.

These important examples show us that e-learning can be 613. Thanks to technology, more and more ways of teaching and learning are being developed. Nobody knows 614 the classroom of the future will look like, but one thing is for sure— there has never been a 615 interesting time to be a student.

Because of my mom's strict and careful care later, it became 655 difficult to recover slowly. No longer sick, no more stories. 656, I went into my father's room one evening.

"Dad, you tell me stories only when I'm sick."

My father laughed, "You are already eight and can read by yourself."

He 657 me a book and said "Go and read that. It'll tell you stories."

That night, I opened the book and read what turned out to be the most 658 story that I had ever read.

What I discovered that night 659 my life. I became thirsty for books and became a voracious (求知欲强的) 660. Through reading, I felt as though I were on the magical journey to the endless.

I was hiking on a desert when I slipped off a high rock, breaking my leg. There was no phone _____676_____, and I hadn't told anyone where I was going. I had also, according to my GPS, taken a wrong _____677_____ somewhere and was a mile off the actual trail.

But I believed someone would find me the next day. As the sun rose again, _____678_____ returned. But I wasn't found that day. I sincerely _____679_____ to whatever force might listen. Not until Day Three did I reach depression. The sadness of never seeing my beloved _____680_____ over me like a wave. However, I gradually _____681_____ myself as a part of the desert—a quiet and free place. I felt relieved that my death would happen in the wild. Then I _____682_____ into a quiet sleep. Though I was still _____683_____ for my fourth day, I was at my absolute weakest. Had the helicopter not come to my _____684_____, I didn't know how much longer I would hang on.

It is a(n) 685 that we will die. My narrow 686 made me wonder how often I really appreciated life. Once we accept life will end, it becomes easier to 687 what we are afraid of. Everything becomes a 688: the good and the bad. We can't 689 live and only enjoy the best bits. We can't treasure the 690 if we never have to live through the dark.

There aren't enough resources to identify and cure the factors that are causing populations of animals around the world to decline. Artificial intelligence might have the power to change that.

When an endangered seabird hits a power line, it 691 “very much like the laser noise from Star Wars,” says preservation biologist Marc Travers. He should know, as his team from the Endangered Seabird Recovery Project recorded thousands of hours of audio to determine if power lines 692 local seabirds. Travers was trying to establish how 693 birds were killed by power lines on the island of Kauai in Hawaii in 2011.

His team recorded 600 hours of audio and sent the recordings to Preservation Metrics, a company that assists preservation efforts with AI 694. Preservation Metrics used a program to “listen” to the recordings and check off the sounds that signified bird electrocutions (电击). The result was 695, as the number of bird electrocutions was in the thousands. 696 proof that power lines were killing a significant number of birds, the team worked with the local utility (公共设施) service to reduce bird deaths.

In science fiction stories such as The Matrix, AI-powered machines take over the world and end life on the planet as we know it. But 697, programs that use AI to sort through mountains of data might just save some species from disappearing permanently.

By many 698, humans have been poor keepers of the planet. Humans have altered as much as 97 percent of land ecosystems. Key populations of monitored animals have declined as much as 68 percent since 1970. The decline in 699 around the world has created a miserable situation. Preservation efforts 700 key resources they need to be effective.

Humans, 701, fortunately have AI-based tools that can help now. AI can quickly and accurately sort through large amounts of data created by observations in the field. Then other programs such as PAWS (Protection Assistant for Wildlife Security) can help analyse the data and suggest the most effective ways to focus preservation efforts.

In large national parks and wildlife reserves, 702 hunters are a danger for animals both big and small. Some animals are worth a lot of money on the black market. Park keepers are left with a(n) 703 task because there is too much land to cover. But the PAWS programme allows park keepers to focus their efforts. PAWS has even 704 the existence of trap lines in areas not yet watched by park keepers!

We still face many challenges to 705 the loss of wildlife, but AI-powered programs promise to be a powerful preservation tool.

Andrew McLindon was a businessman and an active cyclist. One day, he was 706 his bike in Austin, Texas, when he thought of a friend's 12-year-old son. The boy had never known the 707 of biking because of hydrocephalus (脑积水), which caused balance disturbances. He suddenly had a strong 708 to do something.

On arriving home, he went online and found a three-wheel recumbent bike (躺式单车) with a seat belt, just 709 for a child with balance issues. The following days 710 the boy happily riding around the street with other kids. Words 711 to convey the father's gratitude when he saw the smile on his son's face.

712 by this, McLindon launched a non-profit Family Foundation. Funded 713 by donations, it works with hospitals to find children who can 714 owning an adaptive bike — and to help tailor each bike to the particular 715 of a child. The bikes are 716 — $3,000 to $4,000, and that's with the producer's discount. For kids lucky enough to 717 one, they're a life changer.

So far, the foundation has given away 450 bikes. That's just a 718 and there will be more to come. "I do a lot of things. I 719 several companies," McLindon says. "But getting these kids their bikes is the most 720 thing that I do."

I've just read an interesting article. It says children of 721 mothers are less likely to stick to traditional roles of male 722 and female homemakers. Kids whose mothers have jobs 723 have a better chance of success later in life.

When I was five, illness robbed me of my father. To support my family, my mum 724 a full-time job, which included long days. She 725 my two sisters and me on her own. My mum always tells me, "Being 726 is important. Why? Because if you can organize your own life and make your own decisions, you can 727 almost anything." At 15, I got my first part-time job; later I 728 three more. As I got older, I realized the 729 of depending on myself and the amazing feeling I had when I 730 to get things I wanted by myself and I didn't have to 731 other people.

Watching my mother work hard, I gradually developed a 732 attitude to work. That was why I was able to 733 myself through four years of college on my own. Luckily I received a full-time job offer 734 before I got my degree certificate (学位证书). I am 735 to my mum. She has given me so much love over the years and is the greatest model for me.

2015 was the first year when the Blue Jays had made it to the playoffs (季后赛) since their World Series win in 1993.

That year, baseball gave me a whole new way to 736 with my 9-year-old son. He got 737 about playing baseball, and we started watching the Blue Jays games together, 738 the language of baseball. Over the years, my son's baseball devotion has pretty much 739 our lives. Then came the pandemic (流行病). This spring was a(n) 740 time, but watching the Blue Jays on TV 741 cured me. And the repetitive pattern of the game was comfortable and of much 742. No, you don't know what's going to happen, 743 you do know there will be baseball.

By summer, we were back at the 744 to watch my son's team play. That game 745 my spirits. It helped me feel like 746 was going back to normal. Singing O Canada, 747 for the Jays and feeling the crowd's positive energy helped me feel like 748 and celebration were possible again.

So, years from now, when I hear the names from this season's team, I will be 749 back to this time: to the pandemic, and to the real 750 of being a baseball fan.

Winter drove Eastern Canada into a deep freeze. We sat at home, waiting for the COVID-19 751 to decrease.

Each of us looked forward to something to keep us going through: seeing friends, eating out, going to a cinema ... My hope has 752 been gathering dust in the garage.

My bike got lost months after moving to Toronto. I 753 my old bike faithfully for almost 20 years before getting the 754, which then got stolen, forcing me back to Old Faithful. Some people might have abandoned biking 755 at that point, but not me. Biking means freedom. On my bike, I'm 756 and jammed roads mean nothing: there is a 757 to weave between cars in traffic. This memory means even more to me with the experience of lockdown.

Society gritted(咬紧) its teeth in the 758 that we just had to tough it out for a year to 759. Then Delta 760. Then Omicron. A year turned into two, and that's when we really needed hope. So, I count the days until I can return to my bike. On my bike, I 761 another state of mind. In the old days when I 762 up a hill, in my mind I became the leader in the Tour de France and that inner-city hill became the Alps. I would push myself to the 763, knowing once again that I could go anywhere and nothing could hold me back.

I am starting to get old. I can't cycle as fast as I used to. But every time I encounter a hill, I don't give 764. I never want to lose this sense of freedom. I'm waiting for that day when I'll escape the pandemic walls. I want to put on my 765 and for one brief, beautiful moment, be free again.

I was on vacation in Cuba and during an afternoon, I went to a dolphin cove (小海湾) where you could have a close look at dolphins and even swim with them. At first, my expectations were quite 766 for this. I've never been a(n) 767 of captive (圈养的) animals so I don't go to the zoo.

There were about 6 cages underwater surrounding the dock where the 768 were and where you could swim with them. These cages had no 769 part. They rose out of the 770 about a foot and had a fairly good amount of depth. These dolphins could easily jump over the cages.

As the tour started, 771, our Cuban guide overheard everyone talking about the cages. Therefore, he started off the tour by 772 the intelligence of dolphins and the deal 773 people made with them. Not sure how they started the 774, but basically it follows as this. These dolphins are completely 775. They arrive inland during a certain part of the season when they find it difficult to find 776 in the seas. They will 777 and live in the dolphin park and get fed with really good food. When hurricane season starts, they go back to the 778 and stay there until the season changes.

The dolphins are there by their own free will because it 779 them. I wished other facilities could establish a 780 like this.

What was the best moment I've ever had in a class? I've had many great moments, but perhaps the best moment 781 in my English class about a month ago.

Thirty minutes before my presentation, I felt 782. I was 783 that I would entertain the audience. But when my presentation started, I gave a(n) 784 to my performance assistant, which led me to 785 my eight notecards all over the floor. I quickly bent down to 786 all the cards off the floor. I became 787, listening to the 788 of the audience. Looking at the messy cards, my anxiety level 789 and I was covered with 790. After I rearranged the disorganized cards, I felt a sense of 791.

Thus, my words, my explanations and my connections all flowed out my mouth, and I felt more natural and free as I continued my topic. The movement of my hands along with visual aids kept the audience entertained. I felt like a 792 different person.

I realized the key to making a presentation to people was not just getting their attention by visual aids. You need to let your heart pour out so that you can 793 their hearts and minds. You need to give the audience attention, and you can't 794 without emotions. As long as you find a(n) 795 between yourself and the topic, you will keep the audience entertained.

One chilly December evening, I was preparing dinner. While setting the table, I suddenly heard a tremendous _____ 811 _____ from the second floor. My seven-year-old son began screaming for help and I _____ 812 _____ up the stairs without even stopping to put down the dinner fork I held in my hand.

Entering my son's room, I found my 813 son trapped under a five-drawer wooden dresser. As I leaned over, I saw his small face and the terror in his eyes. I 814 the large dresser off him at once. At that moment, I was fearful to look but quickly tried to 815 how badly he was hurt. Asking him to stay still, I dialed 911 and began to pray for him.

On the way to the emergency room seeing his nose was still bleeding and that he was 816 about the bump on the back of his head bitterly, I tried to keep him calm. The nurses had looks of shock and 817 as I explained that my son had been saved from a fallen heavy dresser. After testing it was 818 that he could return home without being hospitalized. Even the doctor admitted that it was a 819 he wasn't seriously hurt.

Back at the house, my husband and I tidied up my son's bedroom and found what we believe to have saved my son's life—a hand-carved elephant. It was a(n) 820 given by my friends from their African trip.

The elephant had taken the main 821 of the dresser when it crashed. The elephant's tail and ear had broken off but its back held the dresser top 822 off the floor. It was the carved animal that gave my son the precious space he needed to avoid terrible 823.

Although that wooden elephant had been moved from shelf to shelf on occasion, it somehow 824 resting on the dresser top. Fate had placed it there to serve its true 825—saving my son's precious life.

From the top of Mount Qomolangma to the bottom of the Mariana Trench, plastic continues to pollute a range of environmental areas, and it poses a significant threat to all life forms on Earth. 826 knowing the ecological, eco-toxicological (生态毒性), and economic effects of plastic pollution, we have not been able to forbid the use of plastic products. Now, 827 the invention of a 17-year-old girl, we finally have a much better alternative. This plastic-like material is made from prawn (虾) shells, and it divides 1.5 million times faster than most of 828 plastic products we use today.

She extracted the carbohydrate called "chitin" from the shells and used chemical change to turn it into chitosan (聚氨基葡萄糖). She then mixed it with a protein called "fibroin", which is found in silk cocoons. Using the 829 of these two organic materials, Arora created a plastic-like material that 830 completely within just 33 days. Moreover, this plastic 831 nitrogen when dividing, which is why it can be used as plant fertilizer.

In the 2018 Broken Hill Proprietary company (BHP) Billiton Foundation Science and Engineering Awards, Arora was awarded the Innovator to Market Award. She also gained international 832 through the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair. Thousands of 833 students from over 81 nations participated in the competition, and Arora came in fourth for her creativity. She also won a comprehensive 834 to one of the best universities in the United States.

The 17-year-old, now a student of medicine, is on a search to 835 the usage of traditional plastic. She has produced the final prototype (雏形) of her product, and it is ready to be produced commercially. However, before that happens, she has to 836 legal formalities such as patenting. She is also talking to supermarkets and 837 them to use her biodegradable (可生物降解的) plastic, which is durable and transparent. It can be used for all kinds of packaging, and the producing cost of the product is also 838 than most biodegradable products.

An 839 young woman, Angelina Arora wants to make a difference in the world, and she wants to encourage other young people, especially young women, to 840 their passion and make a positive difference however they can. Thus, women are now getting stronger and stronger.

I'm a professor teaching people how to think more creatively. Interestingly, this lifetime passion was 841 by a casual contest when I was a child.

At a family picnic, children used to have the handkerchief-throwing contest, which I realize now, was not 842 to show any real skill, but simply for laughs. But it stirred my love of thinking 843 the box.

The host gave each child a cloth handkerchief and told us the winner would be the one who threw it the farthest. The first little throwers took mighty 844 , but the cloth opened and fell to the ground. So it annoyed me to see the kids throwing 845 when the handkerchief always opened. The secret was not to throw harder but to keep the cloth from 846 .

Suppose I hid a rock in the cloth without tying it. The rock would drive the cloth at least farther than the others, and when they _____ 847 _____, people might not notice a small rock _____ 848 _____ in the grass. I had a good chance of _____ 849 _____ with it, but I didn't want to win by cheating. I had to make the handkerchief fly like a _____ 850 _____. I began tying the handkerchief around itself to make it small. When I approached the line as the final contestant, people were already laughing. I took a long wind-up, and the balled handkerchief _____ 851 _____ off maybe 60 feet away. The laughing _____ 852 _____ suddenly. The host stared at me and then ran to _____ 853 _____ how I'd cheated. "It's just the handkerchief," he declared. The adults _____ 854 _____ and I felt proud.

This is how I learned the secret to creative thinking. I wanted to continue looking _____ 855 _____ what.

My childhood airport experience has become a teaching tool for my son.

When I was 8 years old, I found myself _____ 856 _____ in one of the busiest international airports in the United States. You can imagine how I felt.

It was 1979. I needed to 857 from Bismarck, ND to Burlington, Vt. However, no family member could go with me, so my parents 858 it would be safe for a 19-year-old family friend, Mary, to do so.

When we arrived for our layover (转机) at Chicago Airport, we were told the connecting flight was 859. To my great 860, Mary bought herself a ticket back home. I was left at the airport, helpless, 861 a woman came over. She could 862 something was not right and asked me 863 where I was going. After getting permission from me to take over, she 864 my mother. Immediately, I felt a sense of 865. On the phone, she convinced (使信服) my mum that she would drop me off at Burlington. I still remember what she said to me - "If you 866 me, I will take care of you."

The kindness of the stranger has left a lifelong impact on me. The 867 I am, the more I am thinking about her. Something that maybe didn't feel 868 to her just completely redirected my life. I just 869 it more than words can really express. I want my son to know that people can 870 to be beautiful and helpful.

Anna was a volunteer teacher in a training program aimed at 886 students' confidence and taking charge of their lives.

As a supervisor, I entered her classroom one day, took a seat in the back of the room and found all the students were working on a task 887, completely ignoring my existence.

The student next to me was filling her page with "I can't's."

"I can't do long division with more than three numerals." "I can't get along well with my brother." Her page was half full and she showed no 888 of stopping.

The activity aroused my 889, so I decided to ask the teacher what was going on. 890, I noticed she too was busy writing. "I can't get John focused in class. I can't..."

I felt it best not to 891.

After another ten minutes, the students were 892 to fold the papers in half and place their "I Can't" statements into an 893 box, which was soon full. Then Anna added hers, put the lid on the box, and headed out with the box. Students followed the teacher. I followed the students. Halfway down the hallway Anna got a 894 from the tool house, and then marched the students to the farthest corner of the playground.

There they began to dig. The box of "I Can't's" was placed at the bottom of the hole and then quickly covered with dirt. After that they formed a circle around the new "grave". At this point Anna announced, "Boys and girls, please be quiet and 895 your heads."

Anna 896 the eulogy (悼词). "Friends, we gathered here today to say goodbye to 'Mr. I Can't.' He will be replaced by his brothers and sisters 'I Can', 'I Will' and 'I'm going to.' 'May 'Mr. I Can't' rest 897 and may everyone present pick up their lives and move forward in his 898."

Then back into the classroom Anna made a large tombstone from paper on which she wrote the words "I Can't" at the top and the date at the bottom. She hung it in the classroom. On those rare 899 when a student forgot and said, "I Can't," Anna 900 pointed to the paper tombstone.

Leila Taheri used to go to the Welsh Harp wetland as a schoolgirl. At that time, the 160-hectare nature 931 was home to various birds, also Taheri's perfect playground. She 932 played baseball there, forgetting to go home.

In August, 2020, 37-year-old Taheri 933 the wetland and the kind of dump-like (垃圾场般的) surroundings 934 Taheri. Because of pollution, birds populations had been 935. To make things worse, the nearby residents paid little attention to the wetland.

A strong 936 to do something controlled her. Taheri decided to begin with a litter pick. She 937 her neighbors to join in. In one month, they 938 70 bags of rubbish. Then, Taheri expanded the work into more general environmental activism. 939 monthly litter picks, they also worked with some bird protection organizations. Currently, they are trying to 940 a planned bridge across the wetland, for it will destroy birds' habitat despite the advantage of 941 the locals a few minutes' walk.

Taheri's efforts 942. More and more locals are now more environmentally 943, more involved, and have come to see the value of her work. She makes a real 944 not only

Many freshmen find their first year of high school frightening. Students feel a(n) 946 of anxiousness and excitement as they 947 their four-year journey. Many freshmen are becoming involved in activities around campus to 948 the new school.

“My first week at Freedom was frightening and 949.” said Caden Kitchen, “but my sister Avery, who is a senior, 950 me out.” By his sister’s showing him around campus, Kitchen felt more 951 and prepared to begin his year. He joined the golf team and planned to join the hockey (曲棍球) team to follow his love for 952 and meet new people.

Many students have older 953 who are willing (愿意) to show them around campus.

“954 upperclassmen helped me make new friends and adapt to this new campus,” explained Madison Clayton. Clayton is also looking forward to playing softball on the Freedom team where she hopes to meet 955 friends.

Sports are a 956 way for freshmen to meet new people and to get involved in the school. Besides making friends, freshman year can still be 957.

“I seem to be at the 958 of the school food chain (食物链),” Shane Lenoir said. “It looks like everyone else on campus is 959 than me.”

“High school was frightening at first,” Joshua Brant said, “but I’m excited to take on my next four 960.”

Once upon a time, a daughter 961 to her father that her life was miserable and that she didn’t know how she was going to 962 it. She was tired of fighting and struggling all the time. It seemed just as one problem was solved, another one soon 963.

Her father, a chef, took her to the kitchen. He 964 three pots with water and placed potatoes in one pot, eggs in the second pot and ground coffee beans in the third pot. He then let them sit and boil, without saying a word to his daughter. The daughter complained and 965 waited, wondering what he was doing. After twenty minutes, he 966 the turners (开关). He took them out of the pot and put them in a bowl. Turning to his daughter, he asked, “Dear baby, what do you see now?”

“Potatoes, eggs and coffee,” she quickly replied.

“Look closer,” he said, “and touch the potatoes.” She did and noted that they were 967.

He then asked her to take an egg and break it. After pulling off the shell, she 968 the hard-boiled eggs. Finally, he asked her to sip (抿) the coffee. “Dad, what does this really mean?” she asked.

He then explained that the potatoes, the eggs and the coffee beans had each faced the same boiling water. However, they 969 differently. They went in strong, hard, but in the boiling water, they became soft and weak. The eggs were fragile (易碎) with the thin outer shell protecting their liquid inside until they were put in the boiling water. Then the inside of the egg became hard. However, the ground coffee beans were 970. After they were 971 to the boiling water, they changed the water and created something new.

“Which one are you?” he asked his daughter. “When the 972 knocks on your door, how do you 973? Are you a potato, an egg, or a coffee bean?”

“Dad, I want to be a coffee bean,” said the daughter.

All his 974 paid off and the daughter realized that in life, challenges happen to us all, but the only thing that truly 975 is what happens within us.

Two years ago, Nikki Tysoe 976 got on a bike. Today, though, she's become so 977 to the cycling world that she's even helping to bring pedal power to mental-health nurses at the hospital where she 978 .

In April, the National Lottery-funded charity Access Sport introduced a program that provides bikes to Tower Hamlets' Royal London Hospital. Nikki 979 herself to pushing for this to be extended to Goodmayes Hospital, a mental-health facility in northeast London 980 she's a project manager. She says having the bikes not only enables nursing staff to travel safely to and 981 work during the coronavirus crisis, but also allows them to 982 steam during their breaks.

Nikki wanted to do something to make life a bit better for the 983 in the hospital. There's a lot of focus on the hospitals at the moment which are having an awful time and this is also a 984 time for mental-health staff. The bikes provide a complement (补充) to a "wobble room", spaces designed for nurses and other staff if they are feeling pressured and need some 985 and relief during the pandemic within the hospital. The bikes are surely an extension of that.

Junior doctor Aiman is very 986 for that program. "Using the bike means I can get to work safely" she says. "This has taken out a lot of 987 from my daily life and allows me to focus on my patients. It's definitely improved my mental well-being. " Stress levels are generally high in nursing and having bikes would make a 988 .

989 Access Sport has provided Nikki with bikes, her dream is to have three or four bicycles permanently on site. Following the success of the bike loans, Nikki is working to extend the project 990 lockdown.

Several months ago, a tornado fiercely hit our city without any signs before. We hadn't _____991_____ for it in advance, so we were just forced to go into our _____992_____ actions. I happened not to be in the classroom when it attacked. Hearing the alarm screaming, I rushed _____993_____ as fast as I could back to the classroom.

Never did I imagine that we would put our regular _____994_____ to use. Never did I imagine that my students had _____995_____ against the wall and crouched (蹲) down on their knees. Their eyes were obviously filled with _____996_____ as they asked if their parents, pets, and friends would be okay. I, along with other teachers, tried our best to _____997_____ them, though we actually didn't know what the _____998_____ would be.

I couldn't _____999_____ the tornado any more. However, I'm very proud of my students who performed so well. In such a _____1000_____ and dangerous situation, they behaved beyond their ages. Never in my life had I seen them _____1001_____ instructions so quickly, without any hesitation. Though some tears were dropping and some hearts were beating fast, the kids were incredibly _____1002_____. I'm extremely proud that they struggled to calm down because of their _____1003_____ in me.

Because of the tornado, I realized that my job as a teacher meant a lot. Behind every well-behaved students are a long line of teachers who have made it their life's _____1004_____ to educate them with safety, courage, calmness and trust. Though the tornado has presented _____1005_____, I'm sure we can handle them one by one.

I'm a second-year student of Coventry University. For more than a year, I have been volunteering for SHOUT, a text-based 1036 health support service.

This time last year, we all watched the COVID-19 unfold across the country. I had planned to work in the summer vacation, but this became 1037 when the first lockdown began. My days became a(n) 1038 of watching the news and wishing I could do something. Fortunately, I learned about SHOUT in an email from my university's volunteering team 1039 the charity needed more volunteers, due to the increase in 1040 they were receiving since the pandemic (流行病) began. I applied instantly.

SHOUT volunteers 1041 as a listening ear to anyone who needs support, at any time, with their mental health. The service supports them and encourages self-care techniques to keep people 1042 during the pandemic. This service was especially important during lockdown, when clinical services were often 1043. As volunteers, we never give advice; often our texters just need someone to 1044.

My volunteering 1045 have had a huge positive impact on my mental health. I have been able to gain new 1046 from gardening to instructing. In a voluntary capacity, the pressure is off. If I'm struggling, my teammates will always encourage me to rest and 1047 for a while. And when I'm feeling strong, I can get involved again and 1048 other people in their time of need.

The skills I've gained by volunteering have given me the 1049 to successfully apply for an internship (实习生) with Coventry University. I strongly believe volunteering has changed my life, and I encourage everyone to 1050 opportunities to change theirs too.

Jack, a 39-year-old man, who has a 13-year-old daughter, has been a stay-at-home father for 11 years. When he was a child, his parents worked in factories and didn't have much time to _____1051_____ him or listen to his problems, but that was _____1052_____ among children of his generation.

Jack was quite independent of his family after he started school. He was _____1053_____ to share his thoughts and life with his parents, and he did not care about their _____1054_____ or criticism. Yet he wanted his kids to have a different childhood from his. After Jack's daughter was born, his parents-in-law looked after her for about two years. _____1055_____, as they had no friends nearby and _____1056_____ social interaction, his daughter gradually became so introverted(内向的) that she was too scared to play with peers.

In 2010, when Jack came up with the idea of _____1057_____ his job as a programmer, his wife and other relatives were opposed to the plan. Despite their _____1058_____, Jack and his daughter _____1059_____ a six-month parenting course where he mastered all the required skills. Eventually, his _____1060_____ requests and insistence won his family over and they _____1061_____ his proposal.

In Jack's view, parents only have about 10 years to _____1062_____ good relationships with their children. That's because many youngsters enter a troublesome _____1063_____ at about the time they don't want to share their feelings with their parents. As for Jack, parents must look at the long term, not just immediate _____1064_____. Money can be earned anytime, but the value of engagement in a child's early years can never be _____1065_____.

A lifetime ago I grew up in these mountains on the border between the Carolinas. After college, I moved to California to 1111 a family. I've often come "home" for visits. But this trip, 1112 for work, was mostly for pleasure. I rented a cabin (小屋) on a lake in the town where I grew up.

I've spent much time with family and friends, and with nature, totally 1113 in its beauty. Some of us feel a physical 1114 to nature that is as real as anything we feel for flesh and blood.

The day after I arrived, I 1115 my brother Jack in Spartanburg, and took him to his favorite restaurant. We 1116 for an hour, telling stories, old and new. The following night, I had dinner with friends and we 1117 those who are no longer with us. Then I drove back to the lake, and 1118 myself in a blanket, counting the stars 1119 in the water and blessings in life. This morning, I woke in bed to an old 1120 sound: rain falling on the roof. I 1121 into sleep for a while, dreaming sweet dreams. Finally, I got up to make coffee and watched the 1122 rise off the lake. It's be raining all day. I've been writing. Rain makes good 1123 for me.

Tomorrow, I'll go back to my other home, to my children. But I'll take with me the gift of 1124 time here with family, friends and these old mountains.

Steve Greig lost his dog Wolfgang seven years ago, then his life changed forever.

Since that 1171, he has adopted more than a dozen dogs, all of whom have been in their last few years of life. Greig started 1172 family photos of his animals on Instagram, and his 1173 has grown quickly to over one million Instagram followers. His mission didn't begin with the 1174 of going viral, but rather simply to 1175 Wolfgang's memory. He went to a local animal shelter and 1176 the oldest dog there. After that, he started 1177 his daily life with his animals.

He also didn't originally intend to 1178 others, but that's exactly what happened. Shortly after he started posting, his inbox was 1179 messages from people who had also adopted senior dogs. His 1180 led to a book, which teaches kids about 1181 what is old instead of looking for the next 1182 thing. He now keeps nine elderly dogs at a time, and when they pass away, he adopts new ones in their honour and in honour of Wolfgang.

Greig's touching 1183 with older animals has helped him value humanity even more. Whether he's helping an overlooked and 1184 aging dog or homeless person, there's a common point: 1185. "They deserve attention, conversation, and help," he says.

Taking Chances

Ever since I was very young, 1216 of making mistakes, I've asked countless times, "What should I do?" I don't remember clearly when I 1217 only to do things the "right" way, and made "doing it the right way" my motto.

However, sometime during my high school years, I 1218 . Maybe it was when I decided to try for the lead in "Beauty and the Beast". On the day of tryouts, my heart was pounding; my hands were 1219 badly when I got up to sing. But when I opened my mouth, the sound was loud and 1220 . I was trying to do my best even though I might fail. 1221 I didn't! I realized that if I wanted to live life to the fullest, I had to take 1222 .

Now, I do take these chances, with baby steps, every day: voicing my opinions in debates, 1223 for a high note in church choir, riding my horse over a three-foot jump.

Three years ago, I broke my back when I fell from my horse. The 1224 meant I couldn't try out for basketball, which I loved. And, the day I 1225 out for track was the first day my doctor allowed me to do any physical activity at all. The coach didn't take me, so I started running with my mom. I didn't 1226 the track team, but I didn't fail, either.

I have finally learned to 1227 myself, like taking a tough science course. And I have come to realize that even though my parents, friends and teachers don't always have the 1228 to "What should I do?", they will be there to 1229 me when I try.

Not long before, my daughter's shoes were scratched (划破) with a knife. She burst into tears. I took them to the shoemaker's.

The young apprentice (学徒) glanced at the ____1291____ and said, "I can do nothing except ____1292____ the upper."

His master looked at them and said, "If you ____1293____ me, I will add more scratches on both the shoes."

I was ____1294____ and asked why.

He explained, "As if the openings were made ____1295____ for a special style."

I didn't fully understand him, ____1296____ I decided to leave the shoes.

Two days later I dropped by from work to ____1297____ the shoes. I found more scratches on each shoe; all the openings were patched (缝补) by soft red leather; the stitches (针脚) were twisted with the appearance looking more ____1298____ and interesting than ever. I couldn't help praising the master's skill.

Another time, my sister's blouse was torn, leaving a large opening. My wife checked it ____1299____, and then said, "Let me take it home and mend it."

Three days later, seeing it again, I was greatly ____1300____: all the torn parts took on a look of ice crystal (水晶); attached to it was a snowman made of flowery rags. I sighed with ____1301____, "It's amazing!"

"I was ____1302____ by that shoemaker. Patches are supposed to be ugly, but a skillful craftsman (工匠) can make it take on a kind of ____1303____," replied my wife.

Her words inspired me more: perfection is impossible to achieve in ____1304____; patches appear in the form of injury, disability or disease. Since you can't change the existence of the wound, you should not ____1305____ people's sympathy by disclosing the wound, which is meaningless. A friend of mine recently said something nice to me.

“Those sunglasses just don’t _____1306_____ you,” she told me.

What was nice wasn’t the _____1307_____ into my sunglasses, but my friend’s honesty. She wasn’t being _____1308_____. She wasn’t trying to hurt me. She really wanted what was best for me, and so she _____1309_____ causing offense to tell me what I needed to hear.

It is rare, this kind of honesty. And it’s getting rarer.

We live in an age when social media is changing our _____1310_____ communications. We post highly considered status updates on Facebook. We “like” the pictures of people we may not like _____1311_____, and leave comments on other people’s posts that are _____1312_____ and meaningless.

We are _____1313_____ how to be real with each other.

We chat with a (an) _____1314_____ who has lipstick on her teeth and we pretend not to notice. We see our friend wearing an awful outfit and reassure her it’s fine. We ignore phone calls, or pretend to be busy, _____1315_____ telling someone we don’t want to see them. And when we get our feelings hurt, we _____1316_____ it down, because it’s far less difficult than facing the person who hurts us.

And we also refrain (避免) from being honest about ourselves when we are with friends. Sure, we might write about our emotional problems later, once the _____1317_____ is over.

We don't talk about these problems _____1318_____ we're deep in them, because they're scary and make us weak. We keep the facade (假象) up and the smiles wide and the Instagram photos nice. And then when things _____1319_____ -when we end up in hospital, or unemployed-our friends are shocked, because they didn't see it coming.

We didn't let them see it coming.

Honesty is difficult, but without it, we can't connect with each other.

Start small. Let someone know if they have lipstick on their teeth. Tell your friend that no, the outfit isn't the best, maybe consider something else. Tell your friend _____1320_____ that you won't be at her party, but you wish her all the best. Let your loved ones know when they've hurt you, and be prepared to hear the same from them. Be a little more real on social media, for your sake as much as for everyone else's.

When I entered Berkeley, I hoped to earn a scholarship. Having been a Straight-A student, I believed I could 1321 tough subjects and really learn something. One such course was World Literature given by Professor Jayne. I was extremely interested in the ideas he 1322 in class.

When I took the first exam, I was 1323 to find a 77,C-plus, on my test paper, for English was my best subject. I went to Professor Jayne, who listened to my arguments but remained 1324 .

I decided to try harder, although I didn't know what that 1325 because school had always been easy for me. I read the books more carefully, but got another 77. Again, I 1326 with Professor Jayne. Again, he listened patiently but wouldn't change his mind.

One more test before the final exam. One more 1327 to improve my grade. So I redoubled my efforts and, for the first time, 1328 the meaning of the word "thorough". But my 1329 did no good and everything went as before.

The last hurdle(障碍) was the final. No matter what 1330 I got, it wouldn't cancel three C-pluses. I might as well kiss the 1331 goodbye.

I stopped working hard. I felt I knew the course material as well as I ever would. The night before the final, I even 1332 myself to a movie. The next day I decided for once I'd have 1333 with a test. A week later, I was surprised to find I got an A. I hurried into Professor Jayne's office. He seemed to be expecting me. "If I gave you the A as you 1334 , you wouldn't continue to work as hard."

I stared at him, 1335 that his analysis and strategy (策略) were correct. I had worked my head off, as I had never done before.

I was speechless when my course grade arrived: A-plus. It was the only A-plus given. The next year I received my scholarship. I've always remembered Professor Jayne's lesson: you alone must set your own standard of excellence.

The basic meaning of “pet” is an animal we keep for emotional (情感的) rather than economic reasons. A pet animal is 1351 as a companion, and we all need companions to keep us feeling happy. 1352 pets offer more than companionship: they invite us to love and be loved. Many 1353 feel their pets understand them, for animals are quick to sense anger and sorrow. A cat or dog can comfort us 1354 when human words don’t help. We feel loved, too, by the way pets 1355 us for a home, for food and drink. Dogs 1356, look up to their owners, 1357 makes them feel important and needed.

A pet can be something 1358 to each member of the family, another baby to the mother, a sister or brother to an only child, a grandchild to the elderly, but for all of us pets provide 1359 and companionship. It has 1360 been suggested that tiny pets should be sent as companions to astronauts on space ships, to help reduce the stress (紧张) and 1361 of space flights.

In this Plastic Age, when most of us live in large cities, pets are particularly important for _____ 1362 _____. A pet in the family keeps people in touch with the more natural, animal world. Seeing an animal give birth brings understanding of the naturalness of childbirth, and seeing a pet _____ 1363 _____ helps a child to cope with sorrow. Learning to care for a pet helps a child to grow up into a loving adult who feels _____ 1364 _____ toward those dependent on them. Rightly we teach children to be good to their pets. They should learn, too, that pets are _____ 1365 _____ for us human beings.

James shook his money box again. Nothing! He carefully _____ 1366 _____ the coins that lay on the bed. $24.52 was all that he had. The bicycle he wanted was at least $90! _____ 1367 _____ on earth was he going to get the _____ 1368 _____ of the money?

He knew that his friends all had bicycles. It was _____ 1369 _____ to hang around with people when you were the only one without wheels. He thought about what he could do. There was no point asking his parents, for he knew they had no money to _____ 1370 _____.

There was only one way to get money, and that was to earn it. He would have to find a job. But who would hire him and what could he do? He decided to ask Mr Clay for advice, who usually had 1371 on most things.

“Well, you can start right here,” said Mr Clay. “My windows need cleaning and my car needs washing.”

That was the 1372 of James’ odd-job (零工) business. For three months he worked every day after finishing his homework. He was amazed by the variety of jobs that people 1373 for him to do. He took dogs and babies for walks, cleared out cupboards, and mended books. He lost count of the 1374 of cars he washed and windows he cleaned, but the 1375 increased and he knew that he would soon have 1376 for the bicycle he wanted.

The day finally came when James counted his money and found $94.32. He 1377 no time and went down to the shop to pick up the bicycle he wanted. He rode 1378 home, looking forward to showing his new bicycle to his friends. It had been hard 1379 for the money, but James knew that he valued his bicycle far more since he had bought it with his own money. He had 1380 what he thought was impossible, and that was worth even more than the bicycle.

Last week after a long day of travelling, I found myself delayed at a bus station. The bus was running two hours late !I was a little 1396 and had to wait there reading a book. Just then a woman 1397 and asked me if I had any spare change to help her 1398 a bus ticket.

“Oh, sure,” I said.

With the words, I reached into my bag for some money. As I handed her five dollars , I 1399 her stomach rumble (发出咕咕声) and I knew she was very 1400 .I then reached back into my bag and brought out a Danish pastry (酥皮糕点) I had bought earlier and 1401 it to her with a smile.

She took the pastry and gave me a map of Milwaukee to show her 1402 . I don't live in Milwaukee and the map will probably 1403 be used, but I took it. A look of 1404 spread over her face. Then she went to get her 1405 and I went back to my book.

She came back a few minutes later, apologized, and told me there were five dollars 1406 . I gave her the money and slipped (悄悄塞)a twenty 1407 . She thanked me and went back to the counter. Again I went back to my book.

Five minutes later she came back again and 1408 to return my twenty. 1409 I said it was for her so she could get something else to eat and that I wasn't taking it back, she 1410 crying and hugged me.

From then on, I always help others in trouble, because I believe I am really making a difference to them!

I came to love stage design by accident. When I was in the ninth grade, my teacher Ms Weaver asked me to 1411 her stage design team for a play. But I 1412. I told her that I didn't know anything about stage design. But Ms Weaver said, "Give it a try 1413 you have a talent for it!". 1414, I became part of her team. And Ms Weaver was 1415 right-I was good at stage design! Ms Weaver was strict and spoke in a direct 1416, but she was always encouraging and 1417. For example, if we could not 1418 what kind of stage design to create for a scene, she would say, "In that

I guess I was spoiled at first. I was an only child, loved by all relatives. Up until I was eight years old, life was _____1426_____. Then along came Grant and everything _____1427_____. Grant is my little brother. My parents still _____1428_____ me, but I was no longer the center of the universe. I was angry about the change. And at first, I was also _____1429_____ with Grant.

Gradually, he developed the habit of _____1430_____ himself to me. My parents wanted me to be _____1431_____ to him, but I found him totally annoying. By the time I became a teenager, he was, at five, my shadow, _____1432_____ me around, copying my every move, and asking endless

An off-duty pilot was called a “legend” after stepping in to fly a plane himself to stop the flight being cancelled.

Michael Bradley, a 1441 EasyJet pilot, had a holiday when he 1442 flying a plane that was delayed by two hours. He told passengers on board the Manchester Airport flight to Alicante that he was 1443 his services as there was no pilot available.

Mr. Bradley said, “My wife was then with my little boy. She 1444 and complained, ‘Our flight’s delayed by two hours because there’s no 1445 for the flight.’ So just before we went through security, I wonder if this is worth a call. I think it is because I’d like to go on holiday.”

Mr. Bradley phoned up EasyJet and said, “I’m standing in the 1446 doing nothing. I have got my 1447 with me and I’d very much like to go on holiday and if you need a(n) 1448, I’m standing here ready to go.” And his bosses called him back in less than a minute to give him the go-ahead, saying, “Please, please, can you fly the airplane to Alicante?” Then he told this to the passengers. This was 1449 with cheers from the passengers.

An EasyJet spokesman said, “We are 1450 to one of our pilots who was travelling on holiday from Manchester to Alicante on 2nd, September with his family and 1451 to operate the flight. I live near an abandoned(废弃的) house in New Orleans. I always thought about how I could make it a nicer space for my neighborhood.

In 2009, I _____1456_____ someone I loved very much. Her death was sudden and unexpected. And I thought about _____1457_____ a lot, which really made me _____1458_____ for the time I've had, and brought clarity (清晰) to the things that are meaningful to my _____1459_____ now. But I _____1460_____ to maintain this perspective(视角) in my daily life. I feel like it's easy to get caught up in the day-to-day, and forget what really _____1461_____ to me as we grow and change.

With help from old and new friends, I _____1462_____ the side of this abandoned house into a giant _____1463_____ with a fill-in-the-blank sentence: "Before I die, I want to . . . " Anyone walking by can pick up a piece of chalk, _____1464_____ their life, and share their personal _____1465_____ in public space.

I didn't know what to expect from this experiment, but by the next day, the _____1466_____ was entirely filled out, and it kept growing. This abandoned space became a _____1467_____ one, and people's hopes and dreams made me _____1468_____ out loud, tear up, and they comforted me during my tough times. Later, I started receiving hundreds of _____1469_____ from passionate people who wanted to make a wall with their community. So my friends and I helped make walls in countries around the world.

_____1470_____, we've shown how powerful our public spaces can be if we're given the opportunity to have a voice and share more with one another.

Have you ever been caught in difficulties? Remember that self-confidence is 1471 than a knife. You can use it to fight a challenge. Read the short story below to 1472 the power of self-confidence.

A man was trying to find his way 1473 a dark cave with a light of hope from a lantern (灯笼). Finally, he could see some sunlight in the cave, which made him 1474. But as he drew closer, he was 1475 to see a big rock standing before him.

He pushed the rock, but it stood there firmly without 1476 even a little. He tried again, but it prevented him from 1477 the place. The man felt as if being swallowed by a whale that was waiting to enjoy his supper. He sat 1478 the big rock in the mouth of the dark cave looking back on his adventure. He had overcome many difficulties and 1479 he would overcome this one, too.

So he said to himself with confidence, "I will 1480 here." He encouraged himself and it added to his power and gave him more 1481 in pushing the huge rock.

The rock moved a little, which encouraged him to work 1482. Thanks to all his efforts, slowly the rock made way for him. He walked along the bright and evergreen path before him-with 1483.

We all may meet difficulties in our life. Some people don't believe they can overcome them and choose to 1484, but some choose to face them with confidence. Those who give up will 1485 succeed. Only those who face difficulties with confidence will find their ways and succeed in life in the end.

I will always appreciate my father and his faith.

One summer, I remember, a drought (旱灾) hit Ontario, turning it 1486 a burning desert. On one of those hot mornings I was picking sweet corn with my dad to fill the last 1487 from the grocery store. Fifty dozen was all we needed, which 1488 took twenty minutes. That morning, however, the process didn't go quickly. After forty minutes of 1489 walking in the field, we 1490 needed twenty dozen. I was completely frustrated and angry. 1491 the basket heavily, I declared, "If the store wants its last twenty dozen, they can pick it themselves!" Dad laughed. "Just think, my little girl, only 1492 dozen left for each of 1493 and then we're done." Such is Dad—whatever problem he 1494, he never gives up.

Dad is also a living example of real 1495. From dawn to dusk, he works countless hours to 1496 our family. He always puts our happiness 1497 his own, and never fails to cheer me on at my sports games 1498 his tiredness after long days. His loving and selfless nature has inspired me to try to 1499 others first.

Dad, the life 1500 I have learned from you will stay with me forever. You are my father, teacher, friend and, most importantly, my hero.
